Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a reduced pressure of 50 to 100 Torr and an original pressure of approximately atmospheric pressure, does not reasonably provide enablement for any original state of pressure to a different or a reduced state of pressure. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

The claims embrace an invention which contains any known pressure, which could/can be selected from literally thousands. It does not appear to be feasible that any pressure would function in the present invention. Further, for one skilled in the art to reproduce the present invention (which must be possible, if the specification is adequate), there would clearly be undue experimentation in an attempt to figure out which pressures would and would not work. Claim 7 is further nonenabling because the claim language allows the pressure in the second bath to change to a different state (i.e. an increase in pressure) and then go back to an original reduced state. The specification, as described in paragraph 59 on page 20 clearly states that the pressure is reduced from atmospheric pressure to a pressure of 50-100 Torr.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 1746

4. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is indefinite because it fails to initially recite a step of evacuating the inside of the second bath and exposing the interior of the second bath of air. The examiner suggests amending "air are repeated" to "air are repeatedly performed". Claim 7 is indefinite because it is unclear what one of ordinary skill in the art would consider as an "original state" or a "different state". How is the original state different from the "different" state. Claims 8 and 10 are further indefinite because it is unclear what one of ordinary skill in the art would consider as a "reduced state". Claim 9 is indefinite because it is unclear what one of ordinary skill in the art would consider as an "original state". Claim 10 is further indefinite because "about atmospheric state" lacks positive antecedent basis.

Response to Arguments

5. The rejection of the claims as being anticipated by Nalewajek et al. or Johnson or Scherliker et al. are withdrawn in view of the newly amended claims.

6. In an interview with Mr. Bryant Wade, on May 29, 2003, the examiner discussed amending the claims to correct the 112, first and second paragraph issues in order to place the application in condition for allowance. However, no agreement could be reached.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
